Started July of '76 and still years from total completion the double header will be the center of the spring and summer business.

Because it is easily accessible from the parking lot of the L & F Country Store this greenhouse will be open year-round with house and gift plants plus crops grown for the various holidays.

BETHEL LIBRARY PROGRAM WINS AWARD FROM MAINE STATE LIBRARY

The Bethel Library learned last week that the outreach program for children planned for the week of May 30-June 3 has been selected as a first place winner by the Maine State Library. The prize of 135 new children's books, valued conservatively at $500, arrived at the library on April 13. Librarian Virginia Keniston and her staff are now in the process of cataloging the new books, which will greatly enhance the children's collection.

The outreach program planned for this spring is titled "A Time to Pretend: A Festival for Children" and is being coordinated by Library Story Lady Malinda Crutchfield and Cathy Newell. During the week of May 30, each class at Bethel, Crescent Park and Locke Mills Schools will visit the library for one of two different programs featuring films, puppetry, music and storytelling in the area of fantasy and folklore. On Saturday, June 3, a "Children's Fair" will be held outdoors at the library. Highlighting the fair will be a performance of Pinocchio by Celebration Mime Trio, possible local talent, refreshments, a book fair. Many aspects of the program are still in the planning stages, and groups interested in helping out should contact Mrs. Keniston, Mrs. Newell or Mrs. Crutchfield.

The State Library contest, won by the Bethel group, is called "Breaking Down Library Walls," and thus the Festival is designed to provide an opportunity for elementary school children to visit the library during the regular school day, creating a happy atmosphere which will encourage the children to seek out the library on their own as a place of entertainment and remembered pleasures. The library is already known for its story hour for preschoolers, and summer reading program for students. Hopefully the Festival will reach a larger group of children, and be fun for everyone.

EAST ANDOVER

Mrs. Marjorie Jodrey, Corres.
The Ladies Aid met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Merton Fox. After a business meeting a social hour was enjoyed.

The Oxford County retired teachers meeting was held at Mexico High school Saturday. Those attending from this area were Vivian Barlow, Marie Lang, Laura Learned, Anne Fox, Dorothy Campbell, Dorothy Greenlow and Marion Bodwell.

The topic of the sermon Sunday at the First Congregational Church by Rev. Wuori was "The Dynamics of a Door."

Monday a meeting will be held at 1:30 for all interested in helping with the Vacation Bible School, June 26-30. They are asked to meet at the Calvary Church. The pastor will attend, Tuesday, 6:30 p. m., Jr. Choir rehearsal; Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., Adult Study Group moves into the New Testament, the four gospels; Friday, 7:30 p. m., Standing committee meeting at the C. E. Building, Sunday, April 23, 11:00 a. m., Family Sunday; 2:30 p. m., Association meeting at Center Lovell Church. The minister plans to attend.

Why support the church? The Church is the social center for the community. It brings people together and invites them to "Walk this pathway together, with companionship."

The church is a spiritual center. Its purpose is to help lift men's sights to the creator and Redeemer of the universe. Contrary to public opinion, this conglomerate of human kind is not comprised of perfect specimens. The Church fails many times. God knows. Yet it overcomes failure through forgiveness and ever strives to elevate its life styles to the standard set by its Lord. The Church offers a spiritually discerning and academically equipped ministry. The servant of God is trained in the skills of communication, pastoral care and administration. Rarely does one person possess all of these qualities to the degree of effectiveness that would fully satisfy himself and those he serves. It is hence no small thing that God is pleased to use those whom He calls to this service, with their strengths and weaknesses.

Although joining the church today may be socially advantageous and personally profitable, present and prospective members should consider belonging as a high and honorable calling to the family of God. Membership in the church carries with it immense privileges and serious responsibilities. Have you considered joining? The church welcomes you, Rev. David Wuori.

The Andover Historical Society will resume its monthly meetings on Tuesday, April 25 at 7:30 p. m. at the Library. All are welcome.

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.

The morning sun rose touching everything with a warm and innocent light. From up the Sanborn River way there came a baying and yelping. Geese! The cries grew louder as they flew high above the river, calling, calling in clear voices.

Our tawny earth is still streaked or spotted with snow. The brooks gurgle under natural bridges as they talk in undertones about the winter's reluctance to break camp. Everyone who has lived here in the country knows the promise of warmth, the raised hope, the ruthless rebuff as described in a stanza of Robert Frost's poem, "Two Tramps in Mud Time" which tells of an April moment when the air and sky have a summer feeling, but suddenly a cloud passes over the sun and a bitter little wind discovers you out, and you are at once back in the middle of March. We have had a few like that this week.

The spring advances, in spite of the snow, ice, and cold. The hardness of winter has relaxed, somewhat. Icicles meet and run, and gather to fall in rainbow drops which make an incessant sound of tiny waters.

The ponds are opening up. In the channel out front we watch the wind strike the smoothness of the water and move along making ripples changeable with its light and shade.

When walking, I noticed that there is more softness in the air as I look through the transparent vapor.

One day by the road at the top of a poplar tree, there perched that unhurried, unafraid creature, a young porcupine, enjoying a bit of bark. This "Porky Pincushion" can't "shoot" his quills but his tail packs a prickly wallop.

I passed the road leading to Turtle Bridge and each time I have scrutinized the entrance to see if I could walk in. As yet, I haven't been able to get through the snow. The area is cloaked with alders and a variety of low bushes.

The mid-April breeze shot arrows of sunlight through the trees. The pine branches in the back ground, on the hill rolled and swayed, the tops of the trees restlessly nodding, while over the snow, last fall's leaves rushed in panic before the invisible stream-air.

I heard the falls beyond the pond, springing from a giant punch bowl.

I could smell the sweet dampness from the woods, and there was something else. Suddenly I had the answer; the pond smell, fresh water, touching a familiar chord of memory.

Walking is a form of selective concentration, and thoughts wait only to be ignited. My eight miles this week have been confined to the road but I think of the poem which a friend sent me this week

Clarice Gibson, Corres.

This is spring vacation week and mothers of small children are either going to have to resign themselves to sandy floors or make themselves and their children miserable. The mud season is upon us and as my son put it, "Mama, there is enough dirt on these floors to plant a garden." There is too much snow to play in the fields but not enough to go snow machining. The gardens that are right around here are mostly covered with snow so one can't go into those either. Some of the parents are going on vacations.

Two that I know of are Mr. and Mrs. Everett Saunders and boys and Mrs. John Laban and three children. The Saunders are going to Hyde Park, N. Y. to visit Everett's mother and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bernard. They will also visit Everett's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Saunders and Troy. The Labans are going to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Casey at Redding, Mass.

Andy Benson, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Brown and also grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson, has gone with his French class to France. They left Friday April 14, out of Boston's Logan airport and are expected back April 23. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor went with them.

Sunday, April 9, Mrs. Thelma Merrill took her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shimamura, Billy and Jody to the Northlands in Berlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis Kimball, Anita and Chantel, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson Sunday and had dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason III are the proud parents of a boy born the 17th at 9:30 p. m. The boy weighed in at 8 lbs. 7 1/2 oz.

Upton

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

Fred Jenkins II of Bangor took part in the Boston marathon Monday. At the half-way mark he was among the lead 50 runners. He finished no 123 in 2 hrs. and 28 minutes and a few seconds. This was about 18 minutes later than the winner.

Saturday about midnight I awoke from coughing and got up to get something for relief. Seconds after I turned out the last light, except for a 5 watt night light, a car drove up by the mail box and stopped. I stepped over near the window, heard a small pop noise,
 and a voice, then the headlights went out and the car drove off.
 Roland went out to check for damage but found none. We have speculated as to whether I was seen or some movement detected inside the house. We have very little police protection in town and the solution of crime is very low. This particular incident may or may not have been intent of mischief but the blackout part gave us cause to wonder.

Spring has brought out bicycles and hikers. Skis and snow machines are still very much in evidence as there is still plenty of snow for these activities.

Upton ladies have been invited to Newry for the Mother and Daughter banquet on May 10.
 Each is asked to bring a covered dish for the pot luck meal at 6:30.
 Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greeke of Andover, brought their beautiful Siberian lead dog, Nero, to visit my Shetland dog, Jack, who is a malemute has been temporarily put out in more ways than one because of this development. He spends his days on a chain hooked
 to the faucet of a frozen-in oil drum. However the constant battering by a 60 pound dog trying to reach his lady in a pen near by, and the melting from sun and rain has loosened the drum. Should anyone find a dog trying to escape

 a rolling attached drum, please rescue and return both.

April 19 a small flock of swallows returned to Judkins' Market.
 Kathy Bernier was home last week end. She reminded me that about this time last year she and Laurie came up and returned to Farmington on bicycles. Because it was so hot, Kathy wore shorts
 and got a sunburn.

A pair of snow buntings have been flying around different places. It is unusual to see only one pair instead of a flock.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Charron are in town for an indefinite stay.
 They are doing much work to improve their living quarters.

THE OTHER WINNERS! "Charlie" Whitten, Kurt Brown, Teresa
 Morgan, Marc Packard, Tania

THE WINNER! Peter Keniston is all smiles as he displays his winning entry in Mr. Kersey's Project Physics Class at Telstar. Judges Gersen and Tripp declared Pete's motor the best in overall design, workmanship, and speed.

The Oxford County Democratic committee met on Thurs. April 13
 at Bethel Savings Bank. Attorney General Joseph Brennan was the featured speaker of the evening.
 Brennan, who is seeking the Dem-importance of jobs for Maine as his first priority if elected, followed by court reform and services for the elderly. In response to questions Brennan indicated that he supports Dickey-Lincoln at present but is also interested in other power sources. He spoke of his concern over the disposal of wastes from nuclear power facilities. Other questions concerned tax credits for private school tution, the Indian land case, and the problem of annual flooding on Maine rivers.

 Maine Young Democrats and Joann

DR. GARBARINI ANSWERS YOUR QUESTION

Continuing my answer on headache remedies from last week, most headaches are symptomatic responses to expansion of the arteries that surround the brain. The secret to healing such headaches is the use of ice packs. The cold will help to constrict the swollen vessels, restoring them to their normal size.

1. Apply an ice bag first to your forehead for five minutes, then to the top of your head for five minutes, follow this with five minutes at the front of your neck, the chilling of the large arteries that run from the throat to the brain causes a reflex constriction of the brain arteries.

2. Fill a wash basin or tub with cold water and soak your feet for five to 15 minutes or until you experience relief from the pounding headache. The cold water causes reflex relaxation.

3. When your blood sugar is erratic, it may cause recurring headaches. This is your body's warning that protein may be necessary to correct any imbalance. Try to eat food such as meat, eggs, or cheese with each meal. Try cheese, seeds, or nuts for between meal snacks. This will keep your blood sugar level and help to prevent headaches.

4. While all the nutrients are needed to maintain balanced health, calcium appears to have a more beneficial action on the nervous system than the others. It exerts a coating action on the covering of the nerves and creates a natural insulation against stress. Your body uses calcium to help your muscles, nerves, and heart function free from distress. For natural headache relief try one teaspoon of Brewer's yeast and one tablespoon of honey milk. The calcium of the milk is taken up by the B-complex vitamins of the Brewer's yeast, and the sugars of the honey help for speedy assimilation into the bloodstream. For the relief of head and body pains, the secret is the calcium goes to the cause of the discomfort and thereby helps correct the symptoms. Best of all, it's all natural!

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST

To liken a Christian to an airplane pilot is interesting. A plane pilot knows the rules necessary in checking out his craft prior to take off: his fuel, engine, flaps, rigging, carburetor heat, magnetos etc. In flight he learns the stall speed of his craft, he keeps looking for other planes by turning his head from left to right to avoid mid air collisions.

However, when Mr. Christian pilot is on the ground and living a life "in Christ" he entertains troubles in his "walk with Christ" if he looks to the right or to the left. Spiritually his troubles will come crashing upon him and a spiraling nose dive is inevitable. There is but one way for a Christian to live "neither giving heed to fables and endless myths, giving rise to speculations" (1 Tim 1) for swerving to the right or left leads to vain jangling.

The way to go is straight ahead: "According to the glorious gospel of the blessed God," "Holding faith and a good conscience, which some having put away concerning faith and have made shipwreck" (1 Vs. 19).

When the Israelites were about to cross the river Jordan and living way to the promised land—God instructed Joshua (7:7): He told him not to look to the left nor to the right but "be of strong and good courage." Imagine walking over a dry river bed with high walls of water on either side, being held in place by God! Don't look—just go ahead!

When Mr. airplane pilot comes in for a landing he had better keep his eyes open and straight ahead—looking at the landing strip—careful of cross winds and altitude—letting his landing gear touch down softly—then taxi to his tie down area—being observant of his surroundings—so is a Christian careful of his where abouts. Phil. 3: "to beware of dogs, evil workers and legal righteousness."

Many churches have fallen away from the Gospel because they have added to and taken away from the divine gospel—wherein legality and unsound doctrine was and is to this day being taught. Therefore it behooves a Christian to keep his spiritual eyes straight ahead as on the "things of the Lord."

Ephesians 5—"Let no man deceive you with vain words"—"Be not ye therefore partakers with them." "For ye were sometimes in darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light."

Praise ye the Lord. - Fred Werner Bethel Gospel Center

Newry

—Miss Amy Hanscom, Corres.—
The Assessors are working on the 1978 taxes. Some new buildings were inspected and measured last week, and graded and valued under guidelines set by the State Bureau of Taxation. Other buildings on which the 1977 assessment was questioned were reassessed. Others will be inspected before the work is completed.

Several additional lots were placed under Tree Growth this year, which will mean a loss in valuation on these lots. An increase in the per acre valuation however, will mean higher valuation on lots previously under Tree Growth. This valuation is set by the State Bureau of Taxation, and amounts to $12.90 per acre for soft wood growth; $8.70 for mixed wood and $4.50 for hard wood. This will result in an increase of $163,196 in valuation on land under tree growth in 1977. Figure for 1978 Tree Growth are not available at this time.

The increase in Tree Growth values, together with new buildings and adjustments should mean an increase in the total valuation, which was $5,288,510. An additional $1,306,075 in valuation was lost under Tree Growth in 1977, with a tax loss of $15,356, $9,408 of which is to be reimbursed by the State. Under a law passed by the Legislature last year 75% of this was to have been paid last December, but has not been received to date.

Land taxed under Tree Growth is valued at a much lower rate than other property, resulting in an extra burden on other taxpayers, especially low income home owners. In 1977 taxpayers not under Tree Growth paid approximately $3.00 out of each $11.00 of their tax bill to make up the Tree Growth loss. In other words, only $8. of each $11. they paid were actually for their taxes. The other three went to help woodland owners pay their taxes. Many municipal officers realize the unfairness of this law and are working to get the law repealed.

The annual Association meeting of Union Religious Society of the Newry Community Church will be held at the church on Monday, April 24, at 7 p. m. All members are urged to attend.

TELSTAR SPRING ATHLETIC SCHEDULES

Telstar Athletic Director Peter Brown announces the following spring athletic schedules for Telstar Middle School and Telstar Regional High School. Please note that the Middle School and High School home softball games will be played at Telstar this year and not at the town Little League field as has been past practice. This change is necessary due to the grass re-seeding of all the Crescent Park area fields.

YOUNG - YOUNG

On Saturday evening, April 8, at the Bethel Inn, Jonnie Lynn Young and Daryl Young repeated vows before Rev. Robert Colby, bringing them together in marriage. Rev. Colby spoke with feeling, drawing all in attendance into the ceremony, each one becoming a special part of a special time for Jonnie Lynn and Daryl. His words were strong yet comforting, assuring the bride and groom that feelings from within can only be destroyed by influences from outside. Rings were exchanged, joining Mr. and Mrs. Young into a lasting and meaningful relationship. The windy evening ceremony was brightened by the spring time floral arrangements, provided by Manager Ernest Tremblay and his staff at the Inn.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party adjourned to the Opera House on the Common in Bethel. It was here that over 100 well wishers awaiting the couple were joined and treated to a tantalizing seafood banquet, prepared by Opera House chef, Neil McCulloch. Opera House owners, and hosts for the evening were Kevin Mormelo and Jay Meyer, with assistance from Craig Taleferro and hostess Anne Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Young

Jonnie Lynn was smartly dressed in a two-piece cream colored suit, with a co-ordinating navy top, and carried a spring time bouquet. Her outfit was an original, created and sewn by Ms. Aline Stowell, East Bethel, who is known locally for her creativity in designing and sewing. Aline, close friend of the bride also served as matron of honor.

Others in attendance to witness and be a part of the ceremony were Michael Kirby, Daryl's best man; Mr. and Mrs. John M. Dovey and Miss Terri Ann Dovey, the bride's parents and sister, Jonnie Lynn's daughter, Kelsie C. Young, grandmother, Elizabeth C. Reid, and her cousin, Rufus Lochie; Daryl's parents, Dr. John Young and Mrs. Barbara Young and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Colby.

Opera House owners, and hosts for the evening were Kevin Mormelo and Jay Meyer, with assistance from Craig Taleferro and hostess Anne Harris.

Jonnie Lynn and Daryl's reception was the first function to be held as part of the Grand Opening of the Opera House upper level disco. The newly remodelled upstairs, done in a rustic and warm atmosphere, utilizes the balcony space, thus creating a large dance area. The tables were tastefully arranged in a fresh spring time setting, with bouquets of spring flowers brightening up the room. Providing entertainment for the evening was the ever popular band, Thunderjugg, with guitarist and soon to be recorded songwriter Tom Dhyrberg. The evening was lively and filling, with the Opera House providing an array of delicious food and beverage, not to mention the non-stop music provided by Thunderjugg.

There were many of Jonnie Lynn and Daryl's friends, too numerous to mention, who did outstanding work and put in much time and energy to make the evening a complete one for them. These efforts will always be remembered by the couple, and stored along with other memories of a very special day.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party adjourned to the Opera House on the Common in Bethel. It was here that over 100 well wishers awaiting the couple were joined and treated to a tantalizing seafood banquet, prepared by Opera House chef, Neil McCulloch. Opera House owners, and hosts for the evening were Kevin Mormelo and Jay Meyer, with assistance from Craig Taleferro and hostess Anne Harris.

Jonnie Lynn and Daryl's reception was the first function to be held as part of the Grand Opening of the Opera House upper level disco. The tables were tastefully arranged in a fresh spring time setting, with bouquets of spring flowers brightening up the room. Providing entertainment for the evening was the ever popular band, Thunderjugg, with guitarist and soon to be recorded songwriter Tom Dhyrberg. The evening was lively and filling, with the Opera House providing an array of delicious food and beverage, not to mention the non-stop music provided by Thunderjugg.

There were many of Jonnie Lynn and Daryl's friends, too numerous to mention, who did outstanding work and put in much time and energy to make the evening a complete one for them. These efforts will always be remembered by the couple, and stored along with other memories of a very special day.
